Augustine,

We were very excited to have Larry & Raven perform at our company holiday party last week. Larry and Raven's performance was well received beyond expectation! The audience was all world class scientists and engineers, who are highly skeptical by nature, and they enjoyed it and were mystified by the performance.

Plus, of course, everyone was impressed that they made it into town at all, in the middle of one of the worst winter storms in the last twenty years! Despite the storm, they were ready to perform on time. So I would highly recommend them to anyone else, and I was very happy to have them make our holidays more amazing!

Sincerely,

Greg Schmergel
